Dear Dr. Basinski:

I note the report in Nature for February 10, of your discussion of "Mechanisms of Memory". I would be very much obliged to you for reprints of or references to your own published work on this question. I would be particularly grateful for the documentation and any further discussion of your remarks on the significance of the retention of memory after severe cooling with its very interesting implications, and with which I am very much in sympathy.

Can you tell me whether the Proceedings of the Ottawa Symposium are intended to be published? And likewise for the preceding sessions of that series?

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Genetics
